Lau Pa Sat Unveils Hari Raya Installation in Celebration of the Festive Season

Hari Raya installation featuring 12 insights into Hari Raya

As Hari Raya approaches, Lau Pa Sat welcomes the festive season with a specially curated Hari Raya installation, on display from 3 March to 1 April 2026.

In a meaningful celebration of Singapore's multicultural calendar, Lau Pa Sat has thoughtfully repurposed its recent Chinese New Year Zodiac Reading Carousel into a refreshed Hari Raya-themed experience. The installation now features 12 educational touchpoints that guide visitors through key symbols of Ramadan and Hari Raya - from its spiritual significance, festive preparations, to cherished traditions observed by the Muslim community. At the heart of the carousel, traditional festive symbols such as the ketupat and wau (traditional Malay kite) are the centre piece, beautifully reinforcing the spirit of Hari Raya

The installation is decked in rich shades of green, a colour closely associated with Hari Raya. Complementing the palette are batik-inspired motifs that pay tribute to heritage and craftsmanship, reflecting Lau Pa Sat's own historic identity as one of Singapore's most iconic landmarks.

Visitors are encouraged to explore the installation, and to enhance the experience, Lau Pa Sat will also offer complimentary photo booth sessions with a minimum spend of $10. The new Hari Raya themed frames feature visual elements drawn from the festive carousel, allowing guests to take home a keepsake that reflects both tradition and place.
